

Don Franklin

Don is a research ecologist, consultant and keen field naturalist based on the Atherton Tablelands, formerly based in Darwin, with particular interests in plants, vegetation and birds. He is an author of two books, eleven book chapters, over 90 peer-reviewed papers and numerous popular science articles. He is, or has been, a subject editor for the journals Biodiversity & Conservation, Biotropica and Corella and production editor for the Northern Territory Naturalist, and for many years edited the newsletter Nature Territory.